

Hello, My name is Dave Townsend and I have been a Realtor since 1990. I have a couple of thoughts that guide my life and my career. Do the right thing. Always try to learn something new every day. Treat people like you would want to be treated. Invest yourself in learning. Help other people. Invest time into profitable activities and invest time into people and things you love and believe in. Give back to worthy causes. I believe in what the St. Louis Association of Realtors is trying to accomplish. Protecting our industry and protecting our clients is a worthy cause and is important to me. That is why I volunteer my time and efforts to support our association. Thank you for reviewing this and thank you for your consideration and friendship.
