

A native St. Louisan and Mizzou graduate, Matt began his real estate career in 2015 by joining his grandmother's real estate team. After earning his broker's license, he joined the leadership team at Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices Select Properties, where he served as manager of the South County office. During his seven years on the leadership team, he also co-managed the Arnold office and helped guide the merger of the South County and Arnold offices into a unified regional South office. In 2024, Matt transitioned back to sales and now serves clients from the company's West office. He is a graduate of the inaugural 2018 St. Louis REALTORS® Leadership Academy class and currently serves as Chair of the Leadership Academy Work Group, with previous experience on the YPN and Grievance committees. Matt currently lives in Brentwood with his wife, Lauren, and their son, Pierce.
