

Sam Hall is Co-Founder of The Warner Hall Group at Dielmann Sotheby's International Realty, where he serves buyers and sellers across the St. Louis metro area with market knowledge, construction experience, creative marketing, and client-focused service.

A Southern Illinois native and University of Missouri-Columbia graduate, Sam has been involved in more than 1,000 transactions and $500 million in sales. Before entering real estate, he owned a renovation contracting firm and spent eight years as a political strategist working on campaigns, zoning, land use, and public policy.

Sam is active in organized real estate, serving as 2025 President-Elect of St. Louis REALTORS®, Chair of its Risk Management Committee, and a Missouri REALTORS® Board Member. Outside work, he enjoys cycling, hiking, and pursuing his goal of summiting the highest peaks on each continent.
